For Your Information

AMS is pleased to announce our 2015 Course Schedule.

In addition to opportunities to engage in independent study and internships, you may choose from the following courses:

Fall 2015
- AMS 2043 Approaches to American Culture
- AMS 3013 Early American Culture
- AMS 3243 Studies in Transnationalism
- AMS 3243 Studies in Transnationalism: Feminist Theories
- AMS 3343 Studies in Race and Ethnicity: Mexican Americans in the Southwest
- AMS 3343 Studies in Race and Ethnicity: Mexican American Literature
- AMS 3443 Studies in Gender and Sexuality: Sociology of Gender
- AMS 3443 Studies in Gender & Sexuality: Native American Women Writers
- AMS 4823: Topics in American Culture: American Political History
- AMS 4823: Topics in American Culture: The South in American History
- AMS 4973 Seminar: Chinese in America
Hello, AMS students and friends! I hope your Spring Semester is going well. I’d like to take this space to share some works that have caught my eye and that may engage your attention, as well.

Below, I’ll include a list of recent books that may be of interest to AMS students and friends. America in the Nineties, by Nina Esperanza; Womanpower Unlimited and the Black Freedom Struggle in Mississippi, by Tiyi M. Morris; Cinema Civil Rights: Regulation, Repression, and Race in the Classical Hollywood Era, by Ellen C. Scott; American Reckoning: The Vietnam War and Our National Identity, by Christian G. Appy; Smart Chicks on Screen: Representing Women’s Intellect in Film and Television, edited by Laura Matton D’Amore; Radical Relations: Lesbian Mothers, Gay Fathers, & Their Children in the United States since World War II, by Daniel Winunwe Rivers.

---

On Monday, March 30th, the Honors College will be hosting National Geographic photojournalist Annie Griffiths for the first-ever Ricardo Romo, PhD, Endowed Professorship Lecture. This is also a National Geographic LIVE! event. The lecture will take place at 6:00 p.m. in MB 0.104.

Visit the AMS blog at https://utsa-ams.blogspot.com. If you know of any blog-worthy AMS-related news, events, or debates, please e-mail Dr. Gray at laguana.gray@utsa.edu. If you would like to suggest a student to be highlighted in the newsletter or on the blog, please e-mail Dr. Gray.

Want to know if you’re on the right track? See your advisor! Students may call 210.458.4424 for appointments. Advisors are located in MB 3.214.