- Each class was well taught and clear, though I now know that I will not be taking a hybrid course ever again. I feel that because the course was taught in the hybrid form, I did not learn all that I could.

- I did like the fact we were not forced to respond to every question, but I feel that there should be more "forced" participation, maybe where each student is required to respond to a question. Something along the lines of when we partner up and have to write on a card, but maybe have a few times where it's individual. Beyond that, an excellent course that made me study on topics and not just a blow off class that we did nothing in.

- I felt as if, on numerous occasions, this instructor praised and encouraged only individual students.

- I really liked this class, the class was very interesting. I learned a lot about United States, I'm glad I took this class because the teacher explained very well the topics of his lectures and he taught me more about this country. The only thing he needs to improve is in his verbal communication because using excessive unnecessary words such as Ummm... are distracting and take away from overall concentration. Rather than that he is a great teacher and well organized about the way he taught this course, I saw he putted a lot of effort in the way to manage this course than other teachers.

- Instructor provided clear instruction and wonderful help and reminders. He was easy to access and fun and interactive.

- Not a good teacher.

- Notifications would be nice for hybrid courses. It's not the best feeling when you forgot to do an assignment that could cause you to fail.

- Outstanding professor who provided me with all of the tools I needed to succeed.

- Overall good class,

- The class can get boring there is no denying it, but you teach it well. A little more leniency during the beginning of the course may be helpful in the future, I missed the first module because I was confused on what to do, I had never taken a hybrid course before but no excuses. Thank you for being a good professor, keep it up Mr. Hofferberth.

- This was very structured. The professor did very well with explaining what was expected. His teaching was effective.

- With it being my first hybrid course, Prof. Hofferberth explained the course greatly and taught it well. I love his teaching methods and it helped me understand what actually goes on in an hybrid course.
