Announcing the LaHood for DA Internship Program:

Are you looking for an opportunity to break into local politics? Do you want to establish lasting connections and gain campaign experience?

The LaHood for DA Internship Program is a unique opportunity for high school, undergraduate and graduate students across Bexar County to gain first-hand experience working in a high stakes grassroots campaign.

Interns will work alongside an experienced campaign staff to assist finance, communication/social media and community outreach teams. They will participate in bi-weekly seminars with the opportunity to interact with other fellows, campaign staff/volunteers, elected officials, community and policy leaders, and the candidate, Nico LaHood. The program also emphasizes professional training and skill building for more effective participation in the political process.

This is a great opportunity to develop a diverse skill set and relationships that prepare fellows to be the next generation of leaders in San Antonio, Bexar County and the State of Texas.

Eligibility Requirements
• Must be a high school, undergraduate or graduate student.
• Must be at least 16 years of age or older
• Applicant should possess excellent composition and communication skills
• Leadership potential should be evident based on community/extracurricular involvement

Work Requirements/Academic Credit
Applicants should understand that all program participants will be considered a member of the essential staff by the campaign. Although responsibilities may vary from day to day, program participants should expect to work at least 10 hours a week. The determination of how many credit hours the internship program qualifies for will vary among colleges and universities - it is the student’s responsibility to learn how their respective schools award academic credit.
