INDIAN TOMB

Cavern Found in San Pedro Park Quarry Contains Skeletons and Weapons of Sup-Giant Prehistoric

Laborers employed at the city rock quarry situated immediately north of San Pedro park, while blasting yester-day afternoon discovered an Indian tomb filled with skeleions of human beings. Indian war relics, articles of peculiar metal formation, spear and arrow points. While only partially explored, two large boxes of bones have already been taken from the underground vault, sufficient to show that the bodies of at least six men have excepted the ease. occupied the cave.

The opening of the cave was located approximately 500, yards in a direct line north of the band stand in San Pedro park. J. P. Lomm, foreman of the quarry, has charge of the articles taken from the cave and will hold them pending a disposition to be made of them by Mayor Callaghan. In the event the city does not care to retain them, they will be turned over to the San Pedro park museum, the man-agement of which has already made a request for them request for them Men of Powerful Build.

The cave is believed to have existed many hundred years and, in the minds of those who have examined it, the theory is advanced that the bones taken therefrom represent the remains of a once giant race that lived in the northern portion of the country ages ago. The skulls, jaw bones, collar bones and joints indicate that the race were men of powerful stature. The metal used in the making of the cups that were taken from the cave is to all appearances a rure article, and those who have examined them de-clare that nothing of its kind is to be found in existence today.

"I am inclined to believe the statement made to me by a visitor who examined the cave yesterday, to the effect that it has existed for eges," stated Mr. Lamen, the foreman. "The rock formation over it must have required ages to complete.

Expect Further Discoveries.

"As soon as I can further blast the cave, I feel confident that still further discoveries and far more important, will be made. I have been greatly bothered by visitors who are clamoring to take possession of the things taken already from the cave, but I will keep them until the mayor decides what shall be done in the matter. They are found on city prop-erty and rightly belong to the city. In the event the city does not care to retain them, I will give them to the museum.'

Find Many Spears.

The spears, especially the larger ones, which measure about five inches in length, are made of flint, are splendidly chiseled and very sharp. It is believed they were used by the Indians on long lances. Arrow heads were found in profusion. A quantity of red and brown formation is also held by Mr. Lamm. This, is is said, may have been used as paint by the Indians. At least this is the theory advanced by the Maxicans at the quarry. They say the Indian used it for decorating purposes and especially during turbulent times.

Gus Knaup, one of the men now working at the quarry, stated today that he was a soldier of '65 and had camped with many others in that vicinity for many months. At that time there was no knowledge of the existence of such a cave. While the work the surface and is covered entirely with solid rock. It is about 15 feet deep and extends back about 20 feet. Foreman Lamm is contain that it goes still further back and believes that when the blasting affords a further exploration interesting developments will be brought to light.

While it seems that the cavern was used as a sort of burial grounds by the Indians or a pre-historic race, the find-ing of metal causes the belief that

EUROPE FEELS SAFER BUELL AGAIN SEES WITH ROOSEVELT OUT

Paris, March 1.-The papers of Paris today give much space to the incuguration of Wm, H. Taft and the relirement of Theodore Roosevelt. The concensus of opinion is that Roosevelt had a remarkably successful and picturesque career; that he aroused the moral forces of the United States and internationally filled an important role on the world's stage. Although he was a great preacher, he has been distinctly a man of action, "an athlete in politics as well as in sport, war and theology."

Taft, although less impulsive than his predecessor, is regarded as a man of great capacity and moral strength, consequently he is characterized as a "safer" president, both for America and Europe.

"Neither the United States nor Eu-rope," one paper says, "need now fear theatrical roups which would upset thom in Roosevelt's regime."

WANT EXTENSION OF MARTIN STREET

The advisability of extending Martin street to connect with Lake View avenue, thereby making a straight and nue, thereby making a straight and wide driveway directly north of Houston street, may be submitted at the meeting of the council Monday afternoon. A conference with this matter the subject of discussion took place be-tween the mayor and a number of pro-moters of the scheme at the city hallyesterday afternoon.
In the event the investigation shows that the proposition is reasible, it will be the purpose of the mayor to con-vert it into a business—thoroughfare.
